The Wrigley Company is rapidly changing. We are known for outstanding innovation, industry leading brand investment and ubiquitous products. However we are now expanding in the wider confectionery market with an exciting pipeline of new products.

A sales career at Wrigley gives you a world of opportunities. Wrigley's Extra is the No.1 UK sugar confectionery brand – and our sales people are among the best. We always give them something extra: product innovations and new challenges – all designed to keep our brand fresh and tempting.

Ambitious? Here's what you'll do for us:

- Drive sales at the point of purchase in grocery, wholesale, convenience and independent retail
- Increase product visibility, distribution and availability
- Gain and maintain new product positions in targeted outlets

If you're our kind of person, you'll be:

- A creative problem solver
- Great with people
- Passionate about customers
- In love with your products

In return, we offer excellent on-going development, superb benefits and the chance to build a superb career with a global business.
